UNO in Secret Crisis Parley

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Members of the United Nations Security Council scheduled another secret meeting today in advance of their announced public session, reportedly to perfect plans for a direct request to Moscow and Tehran for information on the Iranian situation.

Word of this development came from well-informed officials a few minutes after Sec. Byrnes and Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, had a hasty conference at their hotel headquarters, then ordered cars to be ready to take them to Hunter College half an hour ahead of the previous time.

Officials said there appeared to be no question of Russian Ambassador Andrei Gromyko attending this meeting any more than the public session, since he has announced he would remain away from any gathering concerning Iran.

While no official announcement was made of the latest development, indications were that the United States and Britain were working for unanimous agreement of the 10 members actually sitting in at the council table to support the information request to Russia and Iran.

Byrnes is understood to have taken the leadership in this whole plan and under him American diplomats were working out the text of a note, covering three principal questions.

It was generally assumed the purpose of the secret meeting was to go over this text and determine whether all 10 members could accept it. The biggest question revolved around Ambassador Oscar Lange of Poland, whose course in the council has been closely identified with that of Russia.

An informed source said today exploitation of Iran's northern oil fields could seriously deplete Russia's principal source of petroleum and added this may have a considerable bearing on the USSR's desire for an Iranian-Russian oil agreement.

Baku and northern oil fields were said to have a subterranean connection, which was said to be known abroad as well as here.

La Guardia Says He'll Ask Argentina for Food

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 29 (AP)—Fiorello LaGuardia, new director general of UNRRA, told delegates from 48 nations today he would seek food for world relief wherever he could find it—including Argentina. He said he would start right now by extending his greeting to Col. Peron, president of Argentina.

Bubonic Plague, Cholera in China Take Heavy Toll

By the Associated Press

Cholera, bubonic plague and famine spread through vast areas of China today, taking a heavy toll of lives.

United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration officials at Shanghai said cholera raging through South China, where more than 1,000,000 are threatened, was exacting a 50 per cent mortality. The number of deaths was not given.

In north and southeast China, UNRRA reported, bubonic plague is reaching dangerous proportions. U. S. Navy ships have been pressed into service to deliver cholera vaccine for immunization of 250,000 in Hankow.

SEATTLE, March 29 (AP)—The death toll stood at five today in a smallpox outbreak termed by one physician the worst in the nation since 1913. Vaccine was brought from Philadelphia.

"Here is an opportunity," he said, "for Argentina to show its desire to co-operate with the rest of the world."

(A dispatch from Buenos Aires today said Argentina had declined an invitation to membership in UNRRA on the ground she already is committed to send all her exportable food surplus to various countries by sale or donation.)

"Ticker tape ain't spaghetti," cried out the squat, fast-talking former mayor of New York in his inauguration address after bluntly declaring the people of the world "want bread, not advice."

With scorn, he waved a batch of resolutions passed during the two-week council meeting here, and asserted belligerently:

"I want ploughs, not typewriters . . . I want fast moving ships—not slow reading resolutions."

At the outset of his extemporaneous speech in the formal, flag-decked setting of the council, LaGuardia confessed amid chuckles that he was "no diplomat."

"When I have something to say," he said, "I'll say it. From this point on, protocol is off."

"Wheat," he cried, "has no political complexion, and I'll buy wheat wherever I can find it."

"Before long," LaGuardia continued, "I'll be knocking at the door of my old friend, Mackenzie King of Canada. Perhaps we can scrape up a few bushels there."

He told the delegates relief was "not an international chess game where every move seeks an advantage, nor a game where one ponders every move."

"Our job is to take food where we can find it, and to take it to people who need it wherever they are," he declared.

Appealing for help from the nation's press, LaGuardia, who has persistently feuded with several New York newspaper publishers, said:

"I now swallow my pride—and this is difficult to do—and ask the newspapers for their full co-operation."

GI Slicker Talks Jap Bank Out Of Assets, Then Dates Girl

TOKYO, March 29 (AP)—The provost marshal's office today related the amazing story of a Marine private who fast-talked a Jap bank president out of $87,800 yen ($39,192), closed the bank and went holidaying with a Jap girl.

Capt. Otis J. Carter, chief of the criminal investigation division, said PFC Earl L. Brown, Clarksburg, W. Va., readily admitted the hoax after he was trapped by 20 military police at a resort hotel.

Carter said Brown forged a purported authorization to inspect the bank's books, seized all of the bank's assets, closed it, and disappeared.

A tip from a woman hotel manager Brown had given her 10,000 yen to keep 285,000 yen in her safe led to the arrest of the private and the Jap girl with him. All of the bank's yen were recovered except 20,000 yen—the 10,000 given the woman manager, who disappeared, and another 10,000 Brown gave a surprised negro truck driver to whisk him away.

2—Boston American, Mar. 29

After the woman hotel manager's tip, Carter said, Brown was traced by CID agents. Brown and the girl were arrested by a 12th Cavalry patrol.

Carter related this story of Brown's hoax:

The private, wearing a second lieutenant's gold bar, entered the bank, in Tototsuka, by a rear door an hour before opening time March 12. President Masatoshi Kishimoto accepted the forged credentials and gave Brown two bottles of beer to drink while he scanned records and equipment.

The next day Brown returned and ordered all the bank's money turned over to him "for inspection by the Eighth Army in Tokyo."

Kishimoto insisted upon accompanying Brown and had four sacks carry the $87,800 yen in sacks.

In Yokohama, Brown suddenly changed his plans and all six left their train. The Marine hailed an Army truck. Out of hearing of the Japanese, he made a deal with the Negro driver to take him to his barracks at Yokosuka Naval Barracks, a few miles away.

Then he seized the money bags from the Japanese and fled in the truck as they stared in bewilderment.

The Japanese informed Army officials who, later receiving the woman hotel manager's tip, saw a probable connection and arrested Brown.

Always Good Boy, Says GI's Parents

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., March 29 (AP)—Marine PFC Earl L. (Lucky) Brown, charged by military authorities in Yokohama with the illegal confiscation of half a million yen from a Japanese bank, was described by his parents today as "a good boy who never got into any trouble here."

His father, Earl L. Brown, Sr., said the marine had written his parents recently, saying he expected to be discharged in August and wanted to come home to his job of driving an ice truck.

They said the youth was only 16 when he left Washington Irving High School to enter the Marine Corps in 1943.

His mother said "when 'Lucky' wanted to join the service he was too good a boy to be refused."

Blaze in Hull Area Fires 6 Cottages

Six cottages were in flames in the Rockaway section of Hull this afternoon in a general alarm fire in which Cohasset, Hingham and Weymouth firemen rushed to the aid of the Hull department. The Hull fires broke out just as seven fire departments brought under control a wind-driven blaze in East Foxboro which burned over a hundred acres and destroyed or damaged four buildings.

Meanwhile, brush fires which got out of control and menaced or fired dwellings and other property were reported in the Lake Walden section of Concord, in North and South Acton, York, Me., and Seabrook, N. H.

The Hull blaze, which threatened to develop into a fire of serious proportions because of the thickly-settled area, was discovered at 2:05 p. m., and Fire Chief Henry Farrell ordered a general alarm 10 minutes later.

The fires were centered in an area about one-eighth of a mile in the rear of Paragon Park.

Meanwhile, in East Foxboro, a fire which started from an incinerator spark and ignited dry grass was brought under control by seven departments after destroying a barn and a community hall and severely damaging a house and a second barn.

Firemen from Walpole, Mansfield, Stoughton, Sharon, North Easton, Foxboro and the state forest fire service joined in the general alarm blaze.

The fire, fanned by a southeast wind, engulfed the home of Fred Murray in Community Way, destroyed his barn, and then spread to three near-by houses.

Fire officials said a water curtain saved the Pratt schoolhouse which the fire menaced after leaping a road. Thirty small children were led to safety from their classrooms.

Firemen from Mansfield arrived just in time to save a second barn caught in the path of the fire. Foxboro Fireman Orville Davis collapsed in one of the burning houses and was rescued by Police Chief Joseph Dean and Fire Chief Clark. He was taken to a hospital for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Seabrook Home Burns In $10,000 Brush Fire

SEABROOK, N. H., March 29 (INS)—A brush fire spread today to several buildings and caused a total damage of approximately $10,000 before it was brought under control by fire departments.

A small house owned by Franklin P. Eaton was destroyed.

Lake Walden Fire Perils Cottages

Flames roared over a wide wooded area in the Lake Walden section of Concord today, endangering many summer homes and gasoline stations—located on Routes 2 and 106. Two alarms were sounded, bringing aid from surrounding communities.

York Beach Fire Perils Score of Camps

YORK, Me., March 29 (AP)—More than a score of summer camps and cottages were endangered today by three grass and brush fires blazing a few miles apart in this ocean beach resort. One fire, at York Village, destroyed a garage owned by Com. George L. Reilly.

Firemen from Ogunquit, Kittery and Portsmouth Navy Yard fought a fire between Long Beach and Woodridge Road.

The third fire spread from a field into woods at York Harbor near the York Hand Laundry.

Buildings Fired In South Acton

Several buildings were set afire in South Acton today when a woods fire raged unchecked through a 50-acre section near the Crooker's Corner region. The buildings were located between School st. and Massachusetts ave.

A general alarm brought firemen and apparatus to the scene. They were later recalled to battle a woodlands fire in the Walden Pond area.

The South Acton blaze, once thought under control, flared anew in mid-afternoon. Earlier, fire fighters had been busy battling another woods fire in North Acton.

Ol' Mercury Soars Near Record High

Pictures on Pages 28 and 29.

Soaring toward a new all-time high for the month of March, the mercury faltered at noon today to give the city a taste of midsummer weather without any records being smashed.

The temperature reached an unofficial high mark of 84.6 at noon but the hourly readings from 11:30 on were a steady 84 until midafternoon.

At 2:34 p. m. the temperature had slipped back to 82 with the record apparently safe.

Despite the summerlike heat, a scant dozen bathers braved the waters at Revere Beach while about two dozen more lolled on the sand. The highest temperature recorded there was 81.

During the morning hours the rapidly climbing mercury threatened to wipe out a very high for the date and month with the readings runnings several degrees higher than those for the corresponding hours a year ago, when the record was established.

A shift in wind to the southwest was the explanation for the abrupt halt in the climbing temperature.

The midsummer temperatures were general throughout New England with Portland, Me., recording 84 to shatter existing records for the date and month by one degree.

The weather bureau had predicted conservatively the high temperature mark would be about 82 after yesterday's high mark of 87 during the afternoon made it the warmest March 29 in bureau annals.

Wife Denies Assault On Cop in Butter Line

Mrs. Dorothy Deshler, 27, Douglass st., Cambridge, pleaded not guilty in East Cambridge District Court today to a charge of assault and battery on Patrolman John J. Trant in the aftermath of a butter line squabble in Central sq., Cambridge.

The defendant, a 115-pound mother and wife of a Navy veteran, spent only a few minutes in court while her case was continued by Judge Stone to April 5. She left then for Timothy Leahy, who said: "Officer Trant was within his rights. He did nothing but what was done under the circumstances. He told me that only two women refused to leave when ordered to. These two became abusive. He said one of them struck him. I stand 100 per cent behind Trant and I say that if the time has come when any man, woman or child can strike an officer with impunity, then it is time to let all law and order break down."

Present at the brief hearing was City Councilor Michael J. Sullivan who later termed the whole affair "a disgrace." He said he was asking a thorough investigation of the matter by the city council. Accompanying Mrs. Deshler to court were her husband, Howard G. Deshler; her parents Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stewart, also of Douglass st., as well as Mrs. Deshler's 4-year-old son, Howard, Jr.

Trant, who had been ordered to break up the butter line, claims Mrs. Deshler took a swing at his chin when he ordered her to move on. He added he arrested her when she refused to move after five minutes.

But the diminutive young wife told a different story.

"The charge of the officer that I struck him is ridiculous," Mrs. Deshler said. "When he seized my arm and twisted it behind my back, I was carrying my pocketbook and the baby's cap and lollypops."

"Separated from my child, I was placed in a cruiser car and taken to the police station and locked in a cell for more than two hours before I obtained bail."

"After locking me up, officers taunted me by passing back and forth in front of the cell, saying, 'She does look vicious, doesn't she?'"

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD DESHLER AND SON, HOWARD, JR. Leave Court After "Not Guilty" Plea in Assault Case

Beef, Pork to Cost More In Move to Aid Packers

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Housewives will pay slightly more for most pork and about a third of all beef cuts beginning Monday. Announcing this today, the OPA said the increases result from higher prices recently authorized for the packing industry to offset a wage increase of 16 cents an hour. Price hikes for veal, lamb and mutton will be announced later. Retail pork prices generally will be upped an average of three-quarters of a cent a pound, OPA said, while beef price increases will average a third of a cent a pound.

Increases for individual pork and beef cuts range from one to four cents a pound. The price boost for most popular cuts—such as sirloin and porterhouse steaks; bacon, pork chops and loins—will be only one cent a pound.

In some areas, ceilings for these cuts will not be increased. For example, there will be no price change for porterhouse steak in Los Angeles and Dallas, according to OPA, but it will cost a penny more a pound in Chicago, New York and Nashville.

On the other hand, there will be an increase of a cent a pound for flank steak in Dallas, but not in other cities mentioned.

The reason for these discrepancies, an OPA official explained, is that meat prices are figured under a formula based on costs which vary from area to area. Retail prices are rounded off to the nearest cent.

Beef liver and cooked corned beef briskets are increased by two cents a pound, but other beef variety meats remain at the same ceiling. The only items increased by four cents a pound are bulk dried beef and packaged Canadian bacon, OPA said.

The agency added that beginning Monday butcher shops will display posters listing new ceiling prices for beef and pork.

The American Meat Institute today declared that a survey indicated a housewife had less than one chance in five of buying meat at OPA legal prices.

R. J. Egger, associate director of the meat institute's marketing department testified to the House agriculture committee that of 1803 stores checked by impartial housewife shoppers in 11 cities, 83 per cent exceeded ceiling prices in their sales.

He added that the illegal prices on some cuts were double and even triple the ceiling, although the average increase was around 20 per cent.

Seafood Union Rejects Offer

Insistent in their refusal not to return to work pending arbitration 1500 members of the Seafood Workers' Union, AFL, met at Gloucester City Hall today and rejected a new offer of 13 fish processing firms to go back to their jobs.

The strikers voted instead to refer the entire case to Federal Conciliator Benjamin Kirsch, expected in Gloucester later today.

While the dispute continued, more than 1,000,000 pounds of fish on vessels in Gloucester harbor were threatened with spoilage.

Curley Reveals Camp MacKay Housing Plans

The barracks at Camp MacKay, South Boston, to be abandoned by the Army within a week, will be converted into four-room apartments for veterans and their families, Mayor Curley announced today at a housing conference.

The mayor said apartments should be ready for occupancy by June and will rent for $25 monthly each. He told the conference the land will be leased by the city and turned over to the Boston Housing Authority. It is hoped, he said, a financial arrangement can be made with the government whereby the lease money will be applied to purchase of the land, so the city will have title to the property in five years.

Curley said that the barracks are built on filled in dump land and that the Army has had trouble with rats, but he said DDT will be used to rid the area of rodents.

The mayor received a setback in another phase of his housing campaign when he was told by city officials: Instead of 2000 houses available for remodeling for veterans, the city has only 115 pieces of property, and of these only 10 are suitable for remodeling. He was further informed the city has no right to remodel properties but must sell at public auction.

Curley announced that if the buildings were in bad condition he would ask that they be condemned and torn down as fire traps.

Summer K. Wylie, regional director of Federal Housing Authority, told the conference plans (or erection of 1600 homes for veterans in Boston are being rapidly advanced and will be announced soon.

The Boston Housing Authority also announced that on May 1 it will call for bids for the construction of a 990-family unit in South Boston. It is hoped the first families will be able to move into this project before next winter.

'Hitler' Photo Is Snapped In Hub Tavern

By JOHN MURPHY

Record-American Photographer

A few of the boys were whooping it up over at the Cunard Tavern in East Boston today and for a time it looked as if they really had something.

The boss, who's been around this business long enough to know anything can happen, ordered me to dash over to Orleans st., East Boston, and get a picture of Hitler. It seems a couple of ex-GIs were saving him for us.

Well, I didn't get Adolf Hitler, but I did find a reasonable facsimile—and a good time was had by all.

Hitler turned out to be Stanislaw Jaskusa, a Polish seaman, who was whiling his time away at the Cunard Tavern until sailing of his ship, the S. S. Wesla, for Poland.

His amiable pals (perhaps they were the ones who called the boss) proved to be Frank Kelly, ex-Navy, and Red Moran, ex-Army, a couple of East Boston boys who really fought the war.

Stanislaw's English consists mostly of "O. K." and "Drink" but he learned German very well during three years in a Hitler prison camp.

Being an ex-Marine myself, Red and Frankie and I had a few touches to cut up—the places we had been during the war—and then I tried out my schoolboy German on Stanislaw.

Stan had quite a time of it with the Germans, who were quick to notice his resemblance to their leader. He was very careful not to do any mimicking.

Finally came the Russians and Stan was freed, wine and dined. The Russians took him to their hearts. In fact, he got an offer from the Russian government to depict Hitler in the films. But he said "Nein." He won't even strike the famed salute pose of his now-dead double.

Saying good-by to Stan and the boys really was tough with the mercury up around 85—especially since Stan holds court with such good GI pals in such cooling surroundings.

a threatened walkout of power workers set for Monday. He mobilized the State Guard and dispatched guardsmen to all power plants to notify workers of their "draft" status.

Spokesmen explained the Governor's emergency order was possible under State law as a "precautionary" measure.

Tuck's draft order was the first such drastic step ever taken by a Virginia chief executive and is believed to set a nation-wide precedent. It stipulated power plant employees would not be called to active military service until such time as a strike was called.

Gov. Tuck has prepared an order for state seizure of all plants in event of a walkout, which, if carried through, would blackout most of the state.

Meanwhile, federal conciliators were hopeful the dispute could be arbitrated.

J. C. McIntosh, representative of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL), said the union had agreed to submit the dispute to an impartial arbiter. Such a step would postpone the strike 30 days.

Union and management are deadlocked on a wage issue, with disagreement centering on retroactive pay.

The company has offered to pay each employee 5 per cent of gross earnings since April 1, 1945, an average of $125 for each of 1800 workers. The union is standing firm on its demand for 10 per cent.

AFL Chiefs to Fight; Call on Truman

WASHINGTON, March 29 (INS)—William Green, president of the AFL, today declared Gov. William M. Tuck of Virginia was resorting to the use of "force" and "involuntary servitude" in drafting Virginia power workers into the National Guard.

Green, and three AFL union leaders including Edward Brown, head of the electrical workers, conferred with President Truman.

The AFL chief said "we shall never acquiesce."

Brown questioned Tuck's right under the law to take such action. He said:

"It is a violation of the right of citizenship but we are going to fight it out on legal grounds."

Signs Away Rights to Her 2 Girls, Then Fights for Them

A young Roxbury mother, who allegedly signed away all rights to her two small daughters when she left her husband last week, changed her mind and was in Suffolk Probate Court today in an effort to regain their custody.

Separation proceedings had been brought against the mother, Mrs. Edith Sestito Murphy of Blue Hill ave. by James J. Murphy, a former Navy signalman, Hillside st., Roxbury, returnable April 15. After a brief hearing today, Judge Frederick J. Dillon continued the case until next Tuesday to permit investigation of allegations she was "unfit" to have custody of the children.

Boston American, Mar. 29—5

told police and FBI agents he has a wife, Louise, and an 8-month-old son living in Macon, Ga. Reaves was taken into custody at the home of Jacqueline Nihan, 20, of Dutchland ave., shortly after midnight, following a lengthy session during which the attractive auburn-haired girl and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nihan, argued with him to give up.

Brockton police said Reaves told them that while he was at the Nihan home the family pleaded with him to surrender. A few minutes before midnight Sgt. Thomas Delaney received a telephone call announcing Reaves was at the Nihan home.

Police immediately surrounded the house and, according to Patrolman John Cronin, when an officer knocked Reaves rushed to the door to throw the bolt but was blocked by the girl's father. The fugitive then started to run upstairs, but as the officers entered, according to Cronin, he changed his mind and turned to face them saying:

"I guess I'm the guy you're looking for."

He was taken into custody and removed to police headquarters, to be transferred later to the charge of FBI agents, who had reported Reaves was wanted as a deserter and in connection with transfer of a stolen auto across state lines.

As the youth was led to a waiting police car, Jacqueline blew him a kiss and promised to wait, vowing her trust in him.

On the way to the police station, he said he had crept into the Nihan home at 9 last night. "I'm glad I came and am thankful it's all over now," he said. He told of sleeping in barns and hiding in woods for two days since he was chased by Plymouth police and registry inspectors.

Police said Reaves and a companion, Thomas Dickerson, 22, escaped Sunday from the Army disciplinary camp at New Cumberland, Pa., where each was serving a 10-year term, stole a car from a Myersstown, Pa., woman and drove to Cape Cod.

They were driving through Plymouth and failed to halt for registry officers making a routine inspection. A chase ensued, during which several shots were fired and Dickerson was captured, but Reaves vanished into a Kingston swamp.

Officers found love letters signed "Jackie" addressed to Reaves in the abandoned car. Questioned by investigators Wednesday, Jacqueline admitted her love for "Randy," whom she first met at Camp Edwards two years ago, and she made a fervent appeal to him, through newspapers, to surrender.

The children, Helen Barbara, 2, and Susan Elizabeth, born Feb. 3, are being cared for by Murphy's mother.

During the hearing, Atty. Alfred Lerner, counsel for the husband, presented the alleged "release," which he said the wife had written on the back of a torn envelope before she left her husband and children on March 18.

"I, Edith, wife of James," it read, "of sound body and mind do hereby give to my husband, James, full custody of Helen Barbara and Susan Elizabeth, and under no circumstances will I try to hinder either one of the babies."

"I, Edith, do solemnly swear under free mind, that I know what I am doing."

Police Baffled In Search for Phila. Boy, 3

PHILADELPHIA, March 29 (AP)—Detectives reported today they had failed to find a single positive clue to the fate of 3-year-old Mayer Trobman, missing 48 hours.

They extended the search to Fairmount Park after dragging sewer inlets within a 20-block square area of the child's home. "We are up against a blank wall with nothing to work on," said Detective Lieut. James A. Kelly. "It is one of those things for which there is absolutely no reason that would give you the slightest clue."

Kelly reported a blonde woman who was reported to have disappeared from her home near the Trobman's shortly before the boy vanished has returned. "She seems to be okay, but you know there were several other tips on blonde women being seen with a boy and we are still trying to run them down," Kelly said.

Mayer's mother said she is certain her son was kidnaped and pleaded:

"Whoever has him, please be kind to him and bring him home." Detective Inspector George F. Richardson, directing the search, insisted on calling the disappearance "a mystery."

"It isn't kidnaping until we get a note or other official information," Richardson said, "but we'll keep on looking for the boy until he is found dead or alive."

Search for the blonde woman started yesterday after her husband reported her absence to police.

Father, 72, Son, 45 Hanged Together

FORT MADISON, Ia., March 29 (INS)—Illiterate father and son, hailing from the backwoods of Missouri, dropped to death on a double scaffold at the Iowa State Prison at dawn today.

With black hoods over their heads and hands and feet strapped, Philip H. Heincy, 72, and his son, William Henry, 45, plunged almost simultaneously through trapdoors when Sheriff Joe L. McQuirk of Dickinson County pulled the death levers at 6:01 a. m.

The execution was believed to be the first father and son hanging in the annals of American crime.

The men showed no visible emotion, although William trembled a little as he neared the 13 steps to the scaffold.

They died before 75 witnesses, including three women. The Rev. Herman Bongers, Catholic chaplain at the prison, stood near by, administering last rites.

The men, described as masters of crime, were executed for the robbery-slitting of Robert W. Faebel, 63, Okoboji Lake resort operator, Dec. 16, 1944.

Both father and son apparently were resigned to their fate. Neither displayed any fear.

They ate a final meal of steak, potatoes, vegetables, cake, pie and coffee.

Warden Lainsow said relatives would claim their bodies and burial would be in a Catholic cemetery in Fort Madison.

Psychiatrists who examined the Heincys adjudged them sane. Commutation of the sentence had been asked on grounds the father and son were "too illiterate to reason."

The men made a final statement, released by Warden Lainsow immediately after they were dead, in which they thanked Fr. Bongers for "saving our souls."

The father and son went to death without saying any final words or without a final glance at each other. They stood on the gallows emotionless except for a grim stare and their clenched teeth.

Students Oppose N. U. Work Plan

More than 150 freshmen, 70 of them girls, today at separate meetings protested the return by Northeastern University to the co-operative system next September.

The system, established when the school was founded in 1898, provides that a student attend school 10 weeks and then work 10 weeks. It was dropped for an accelerated course during the war. The college became co-ed in 1943.

Objectors charge they signed up on a four-year basis last fall and by the change will have to go five years.

Dean William C. White defended the change, declaring the present student body of 1900, including 600 girls, can be increased to 3000 with re-establishment of the work program. He said it would make room for many veterans.

Revere Cops Set To Trap Squirrel

For the third successive day, Revere police will try to capture an elusive squirrel, which has made itself a home in the walls of the home of Mrs. Mary Melanson in Pleasant st., opposite the police station.

Noise in the wall has annoyed Mrs. Melanson and ruined her sleep and police are hopeful of trapping him.

Two days ago they blocked the hole in the eaves, from which he emerges, but the squirrel dug a new one through the shingles. Yesterday he eluded them and got back safely into his quarters.

New Car Orders Pour In, But Prices Still Up in Air

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive
Editor.

DETROIT, March 29 (AP)—The nation's automobile manufacturers and merchandisers currently are in the position of wholesaling and retailing new cars without knowing how much to charge for them.

And the car buyer, placing his order now, or fortunate enough to get delivery on a postwar model, is doing so without knowing what the final purchase price will be.

It all grows out of the insistence of the manufacturer he must have an increase in the prices to meet wage advances, and uncertainty as to whether the dealers' organization will be able to obtain reconsideration of the OPA decision that the manufacturers' increase must come largely out of the retailers' discount.

This is the way manufacturer and dealer are handing the problem:

The car maker ship his vehicles to the dealer, billing him at the earlier established wholesale price, but with an understanding it later may be "adjusted" upward.

The dealer, in turn, delivers to the buyer on an "adjustable" price agreement. The agreement commits the buyer to pay any later increase the dealer may be authorized to make.

At least one manufacturer is shipping some cars "on consignment." The cars are special models, like convertible coupes and station wagons, on which OPA had established no wholesale prices.

The dealer is able to show these units but cannot sell them. The industry generally has been looking for a wholesale price increase ranging upward from $60 per car. The retail car dealers' average count amounts to 24 per cent, according to the National Automobile Dealers' Ass'n. The OPA, according to the association, already has imposed cost absorption on the dealers' totaling 7 1/2 per cent.

DETROIT, March 29 (AP)—Ford's automotive reports today indicated this week's production of passenger automobiles and trucks in the United States and Canada at 43,070 units, highest since civilian assemblies were halted by the war in February, 1942.

The previous mark in postwar output was last week's 37,275.

Smith Tackles Crisis in Moscow

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, March 29 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith today assumed the duties of United States ambassador to the U. S. S. R. at a time when relations between the U. S. and Russia are anything but happily normal.

The 50-year-old chief of staff to Gen. Eisenhower takes up one of the most important and difficult jobs in world diplomacy. It requires cold judgment, an open mind and ability to understand leaders of 195,000,000 persons occupying a sixth of the earth's surface.

Smith, who arrived by plane accompanied by his wife and members of his staff, will need all his talents for his new assignment, undertaken at a time when some Russians are convinced groups exist in the United States and England hostile to the Soviet and actually seeking a new war.

Deserted in 1929, She Gets Decree

Her husband deserted her in 1929, two years after their marriage, and has never seen their daughter, Kathleen, who will be 17 tomorrow. Mrs. Eva M. McLeod, 47, testified in Salem probate court today in her divorce suit against James N. McLeod, a Halifax, N. S., lobsterman.

In 17 years, her husband has sent her only $15. Mrs. McLeod said in asking the custody of Kathleen and a son, 18, Judge Phelan took the uncontested case under advisement.

He also reserved decision in the suit of Mrs. Bessie S. Allard, 32, Railroad rd., Seabrook, N. H., who testified she found another woman's shoes, a napkin with lipstick and a flower in her husband's automobile. She charged her husband, Clarence, who lives in Ferry rd., Salisbury, with cruelty.

Mystery 'Grandma's' Notes To Dewey's Son, 13, Puzzle

ALBANY, N. Y., March 29 (AP)

—The older son of New York's governor, Thomas E. Dewey, Jr., is anxious to learn the identity of a 91-year-old woman in Stamford, Ct., who writes him friendly letters of advice signed only "A Grandma."

The 13-year-old schoolboy's curiosity was heightened by the latest letter which hinted at tragedy to his unidentified correspondent.

The mysterious letters, apparently stemming from admiration of Tommy's father, began arriving about a year ago. Written in an unsteady hand, they are addressed to young Dewey at the "Executive Mansion, Albany, N. Y." and have been arriving periodically.

The Stamford postmark, plus the fact the woman is an amateur artist, are the only clues. An unsigned sketch of the Governor and Mrs. Dewey arrived only recently.

Postmarked March 25, the latest letter read:

"This may be my last letter to you. Tell your father for me that just as soon as he has saved enough money to live quietly and comfortably and modestly in that lovely home he has in Pawling, to go and live there.

"I should so hate to see them (Gov. and Mrs. Dewey) lose that contented expression they have in the picture I have drawn of them. Tell them to leave the awful muddle for someone else to settle, if the Creator does not do it in the meantime. I have lived 91 years and, as I said before, feel that I know what I think I know.

"I hope, Tommy, by the time you are your father's age, the world and things will be better. Something happened to me today which seems to me the last straw. A Grandma."

Fish a Whopper!

BELLEFONTE, Pa., March 29 (AP)—Old Brewa Beauty is dead.

He was a 27-pound, 35-inch trout which State Fish Commr. Charles A. French believes was the world's largest.

"I doubt the existence of a brown trout anywhere to equal that size," said French. The fish lived at least 15 years at Pleasant Gap fish farm.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—My mother has not heard from our brother for more than eight weeks. He was stationed in the Provost Marshal's office, Philippines. My mother is sick from worry thinking that something has happened to him. Could you advise me where I could write for information? A. G. Chelsea.

A—Possibility your brother is on his way home. However, if anything serious had happened you would have been immediately notified. You may write to Commanding Officer, Provost Marshal's Office, same address as brother's and ask for information.

Q—How may I obtain the address of a serviceman who is now overseas. The previous address was a naval training station and he was shipped out suddenly to the Pacific? C. G., Malden.

A—Addresses of men in service are released by War and Navy Depts. only to immediate members of serviceman's family. Suggest you write naval training station address and request letter be forwarded.

Q—Am I entitled to join V. F. W. served in Navy 1919-20-21, European waters? G. M., Boston.

A—Not eligible for membership; must have served prior to Nov. 11, 1918.

Q—How would I go about getting my sister-in-law now in Italy to the United States? My brother married her in Naples and shortly afterward he was killed in action. My parents are anxious for her to come to the U. S. and she feels likewise. R. D., Watertown.

A—Suggest you contact the Watertown chapter of the Red Cross and they will inform you as to procedure and assist in necessary arrangements.

Q—Where is the Army Regional Hospital for New England? T. S., Bangor.

A—The Regional Army Hospital in the First Service Command is located at Waltham, Mass.

Q—My husband has been in Coast Guard service for the past 15 years. From October, 1938, to July, 1942, he was stationed at Plymouth and then transferred to Biddeford, Me. Would he be eligible to apply for the Massachusetts State bonus, due to the fact he was living in Massachusetts when war broke out?

A—If Massachusetts was your legal residence at that time, you may make application for bonus. However, suggest you write State Bonus Division, 15 Ashburton pl., Boston, and explain case. A decision by the State Treasurer and Adjutant General would be necessary in a case of your type.

Codman Widow Opens Will Fight

Mrs. Margaretta Biddle Codman of Brimmer st., Boston, widow of Robert Codman, former Episcopal bishop of Maine, today opened a fight in Dedham probate court seeking one-third of the estimated $3,000,000 estate of her late sister-in-law, Catherine A. Codman, Westwood spinner, who died March 11, 1945.

Mrs. Codman charges that her brother-in-law, Atty. Edmund Codman, "so confused and muddled the mind of his sister Catherine" that she revoked a will of May 18, 1936, by terms of which the petitioner received one-third of the estate.

Defense counsel told the court that under a "moral agreement" made by Edmund Codman and his brother Stephen, now dead, with their sister, Mrs. Codman was to receive the income of one-third of the estate. Mrs. Codman claims she is entitled to the entire one-third.

Atty. Francis M. McLoughlin, representing the defendant, asserted Miss Codman was a person of "alert and sound mind, controlling a yearly income of $75,000."

Junior Is Oratory Winner at Burke

By BERT FORD

Demonstrating their enthusiasm and interest, 52 girl students at Jeremiah E. Burke High School in Dorchester participated today in the 1946 Hearst Newspapers National Oratorical Contest: "Andrew Jackson, Seventh President of the United States." This was the largest number of entrants to take part in intramural contests in any public or parochial high school in Boston.

The champion is Miss Dorothy Insoft, 18, a junior, of Intervale st., Roxbury. She will represent her school at the Boston finals to be held in Faneuil Hall on April 10.

Runner-up in this hotly contested intramural was Miss Betsy Cropper, 16, a junior, and a neighbor to the winner, who also lives in Intervale st. Both girls chose as subject of their oration: "Andrew Jackson and the Spoils System."

The contest was held in the school music hall under direction of George L. McKim, head of the history department, and under supervision of Miss Ellen G. Wiseman, headmaster.

From Hyde Park High School came announcement of another intramural winner. He is William G. Fennessey, 17, a senior, of River st., Hyde Park. He is an honor student and a first lieutenant in the school cadet corps.

Students at St. Patrick's High School in Roxbury will hold their intramural contest on Tuesday, April 2. Sister Patricia Ann will be moderator of the contest.

Winners in the Faneuil Hall contest will be eligible to compete in the eastern zone and national finals, both to be held in Boston Latin School. Zone finals will be held April 24 and the national finals on May 2, for both high school and college groups.

Winners in the contest will share in $25,000 awards in Victory Bonds, and the two top national winners in high school and college groups will each receive a $1000 Victory Bond, and also a trip, with all expenses paid, through the southern states where Andrew Jackson made history.

Jackson's Grit

Retiring from the White House, Andrew Jackson spent his remaining years in the unpretentious home, "The Hermitage," near Nashville, Tenn., which had been his seclusion at various times during his tempestuous career. Weakened and infirm, he still had the courage to say: "Death has no terrors for me. When I have suffered sufficiently, the Lord will take me to Himself."

Congress Asked To Bar A-Test

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Sen. Hoffman (D.) of Ohio, today offered a resolution calling for outright cancellation of their proposed atom bomb tests at Bikini atoll this summer.

"This is no time for martial gestures," Hoffman told the chamber. "The reasons for the cancellation are fundamental and of such common sense as to be obvious."

"The United Nations organization is in its infancy. It is incongruous to its every purpose and aim for this nation or any nation to exhibit large-scale preparation for future wars, and it is unthinkable that the United States should remotely indicate that she is preparing for an atomic war."

Consolidated Gas Co. Honors Its 193 Vets

The Boston Consolidated Gas Co.'s 193 World War II veterans were honored at a welcome home dinner in Hotel Statler at which E. M. Farnsworth, company president, presided. Presentation of the 150th and final performance of the company's wartime musical show, which has been witnessed by more than 150,000 servicemen, was a feature.

Seven employees killed in service were honored with a minute of silence. President Farnsworth thanked the veterans for their contribution to the nation and praised workers for maintaining efficient gas service during the war.

Ex-WAC Wins Ejectment Writ

Miss Helen Nute, former WAC, won the first round in her fight to regain possession of the five-room Claffin st., Newtonville, apartment she turned over to a couple when she entered the service when Judge Mayberry granted her ejectment petition today in Newton district court.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Baker, had claimed they had not sublet the apartment but were primary tenants and had obtained a lease in their own name last November.

The former WAC, however, contended she had asked the couple to pay the rent directly to the landlord for "convenience" while she was away. She declared the couple obtained the lease in their own name after she notified them last fall she was about to be discharged from the service.

Navy Drug Flown To Two Babies

Dr. Chester S. Keefer of Evans Memorial Hospital, head of the research group making a clinical investigation of the new wonder drug, streptomycin, today released an emergency shipment to be flown to Connecticut to save two babies afflicted with influenza-meningitis.

The drug was flown from Newark, N. J., nearest source of supply, to Stratford Airport, for Lawrence Lesandro, 13 months, and Gloria Lorin Seifarak, 30 months, both in Bridgeport Hospital suffering from a disease which attacks the spine and brain.

Dr. Keefer explained the drug can not be released to the public or foreign countries because it is still being investigated. Individual physicians' requests are granted only after thorough study and in case of dire emergency.

"We'll waste no time on those who are able to pay and do not do so," Donovan declared.

At the present time 22 deputy collectors and two constables are making a house-to-house canvass to demand that 17,500 owners owing a total of $1,367,993 in excise taxes pay up or face arrest.

Plane Hunts Nine Near Georges Banks

Report of a loose mine, floating ton in the ship lanes near Georges Bank, 200 miles due east of Boston, was radioed to the coast guard here today by the S.S. Zanesville Victory, en route to New York with more than 1000 European veterans aboard.

A plane from the Salem air base was sent to search for the mine and put it out of commission.

Ribbentrop Tells Of Stalin Treaty

NUERNBERG, March 29 (AP)—Joachim von Ribbentrop, Hitler's foreign minister, testified today he negotiated a secret treaty with Stalin and Molotov, joining German and Russian spheres of influence in Finland, the Baltic and Bessarabia.

Thus, Ribbentrop told the international military tribunal, was done in August, 1939, at the time of the Russo-German non-aggression pact concluded two weeks before Germany marched into Poland.

He said a speech Stalin delivered, in March, 1939, "contained a hint Stalin wished better relations with Germany." This was the first time Ribbentrop had thought of negotiating with Russia, continuous butt of Hitler's attacks, the witness said.

Ribbentrop said he persuaded Hitler to investigate.

Woman Banker Cautions Vets

Veterans should "stop, look and consult bankers" before using GI Bill of Rights loan privileges to buy high-priced homes, a woman bank official advised today.

Miss Mildred Ganley, retiring president of the Massachusetts Ass'n of Savings Bank Women, said at the annual conference here:

"In their eagerness to provide a home for their families, some veterans forget a high-priced home means high carrying charges for 15 to 20 years."

Officers elected at the business session included:

President, Miss Ida M. Taylor, treasurer of the Cape Cod Five Cent Savings Bank; first vice-president, Miss Dorothy Gordon, Newton Savings Bank; second vice-president, Mrs. Grace E. Gamble, Springfield Institution for Savings; Boston secretary, Mrs. Bernice D. Parka, President Institution for Savings; treasurer, Mrs. M. Emma Nary, North Adams Savings Bank.

Cop's Widow Loses In Annuity Suit

The full bench of the Supreme Court today denied the petition of Mrs. Jennie L. Tolman, Brookline, widow of former Patrolman James H. Tolman, that a $1000 annuity granted her by the board of selectmen in 1944 be made retroactive to the date of his death in 1936.

The court ruled the selectmen had discretion in setting the date at which the annuity was to become effective.

Secret Riches of Jap Diplomats Unearthed

URAGA, Japan, March 29 (AP)—Twelfth Cavalry troops searching repatriated former Japanese diplomats and their families for hidden wealth found 21 diamond-studded wristwatches in a belt beneath the clothing of a 3-year-old child.

One diplomat, Duff said, "remembered" after three days of questioning he had a bank account of around $200,000 in Switzerland.

The 'Kick-Back' Decision

FROM THE United States Supreme Court has come another decision upholding the New Deal theory that labor bosses are above the law.

Four labor union officials were indicted here in Massachusetts under the Federal "Kick-Back" Statute.

This is an act of Congress devised to protect workmen from having to pay to others part of their wages for the privilege of earning a living.

The act specifically outlaws the levying of such tribute through "FORCE, INTIMIDATION OR THREAT OF DISMISSAL."

This type of extortion has been one of the most prevalent labor abuses.

Some of the extortioners have been contractors or subcontractors.

Some of them have been foremen in control of hiring lines.

In this Massachusetts case, the "kick-backs" were disguised as large-sized "intention fees" collected on an installment plan.

The indictment alleged that at least part of the payments was withheld from the union treasury.

In the majority ruling, Mr. Justice Frank Murphy held that there "appeared to be a lawful closed-shop agreement" in effect.

Consequently, he said, collection of the "kick-backs" by "threats and power to force dismissal" was "but AN ORDINARY INCIDENT of the apparently closed-shop agreement."

Three members of the Supreme Court emphatically disagreed.

A dissenting opinion by Justice Felix Frankfurter, with the concurrence of Chief Justice Stone, declared that the Supreme Court majority had itself COMMITTED AN ILLEGAL ACTION in "construing the indictments" to support its finding.

Furthermore, said the dissenters, THE LAW—

"... Should not be interpreted to protect those described in the indictments as collecting funds by coercion, through their control over jobs, for their own personal advantage, at the expense of the wage earner, labor union and taxpayer."

On the plain and simple issue of MORALITY and not LEGALISM, public opinion must support the minority judgment.

And Congress should do the same by AMENDING THE LAW so as to REVERSE the Supreme Court.

A LOT OF MONEY

LEON BLUM of France, visiting America for the usual reason, says his country needs $17,000,000,000 for rehabilitation and modernization, and hints that a substantial part of the money, if not all of it, must come from the United States, which, he adds, "is not indifferent to the fate of France."

Seventeen billion dollars would buy many things for Americans.

It would provide 3,200,000 houses for veterans of the late war.

It would give 17,000,000 families the privilege of owning automobiles.

It would put bathrooms in 5,550,000 homes, many of which lack up-to-date plumbing.

It would allow 50,000,000 men to buy new suits, coats, hats and shoes.

It would enable 52,500,000 women to own good fur coats.

It would permit the Federal Government to pay a $1416 bonus each to all World War II soldiers, sailors and marines.

It would afford a two-weeks' vacation with pay for every employed person in the forty-eight States.

It would finance college educations for 7,250,000 young Americans and permit them to become doctors, lawyers, clergymen, teachers, architects or even newspapermen.

It would pay the medical and hospital bills of every family in the land and save thousands of lives.

Yes, seventeen billion dollars is a lot of money.

And there are many uses for it right here at home.

THE AUTHOR of the above is the father of Dorothy Dickson and the grandfather of Dorothy Hyson. Both of these beautiful Dorothys, though born in the U. S. A., have for some time confined their activities to London, where both are being starred in different plays. Dorothy Dickson appeared in many musical shows and at night clubs in this country as the dance partner of Carl Hyson, who was also her husband. . . . According to recent research on the subject, most people eat but one-fifth of their food for the day at breakfast. At least one-third of the day's food should be consumed at the morning meal. Those who eat big breakfasts have been proven to be the most efficient workers. As a group, stenographers have the lightest breakfasts; usually consisting of orange juice, a slice of thin toast, a cup of coffee and two cigarettes. That is said to be why so many secretaries have a weary way of working in the morning hours. Keep that in mind. When you hire a secretary get one who has ham and eggs for breakfast.

PLEASE NOTE: According to Dr. Theodor Morel, Hitler's personal physician for eight years, der fuesher definitely was a non-smoker, a teetotaler and a vegetarian. However, Dr. Morel has vigorously denied that Hitler chewed rugs as was reported during the war.

ASIDES: War veterans are much more modest in their demands as to wages than former war industry workers. So states an employment expert. . . . Am asked what sign Gregory Peck was born under. The same as Spencer Tracy. That is Aries. The maternal spirit in women is said to appeal to Aries men. They like to be treated like little boys.

QUITE SO: Recently a number of New Yorkers were questioned as to their opinion of a plan to raise the subway fare from a nickel to eight cents. An answer given by one citizen particularly appealed to me. Of course, you must have ridden in the New York subway during remarks to appreciate it. He said: "Eight cents ain't a bad rate for a ride in the subway if there are some changes made. If you pay eight cents, then you got a right to be treated like a better-grade animal."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS!

Q—The most beautiful actress I ever saw was Martha Hedeman. Remember her? A—Indeed I do. You are an excellent judge of female beauty. Martha was quite a blonde. . . . Q—I agree with those who say your Horses & Women experts should devote more time to horses and less to women. And by the way, what is a "quarter horse"? A—A quarter horse is one bred to run at top speed for a quarter of a mile. These remarkable equines can race the quarter in from 21 seconds to 23 seconds. At any distance over a quarter of a mile they lose their speed. Were originally bred by the Virginia colonists 300 years ago. Quarter horse racing is popular in Texas and Arizona. At Tucson, Ariz., they have quarter horse racing every Sunday.

LITERARY NOTE: It was Confucius who said: "The more you know the better luck you will have." And how right the old boy was. "Theory of Games and Economic Behavior" by Dr. John von Neumann and Dr. Oscar Morgenstern is a book which includes a series of highly scientific discussions of what a person should know to have better success in such games as dice throwing, matching pennies, poker, bridge, and chess. Of course, the law of probability figures greatly in these discussions but other angles are covered.

THESE DAYS

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.
BOTH THE Republican and Democratic parties continue to fail to maintain party unity of purpose and policy. In Congress, members of both parties vote without regard to their respective leadership.

The Republican-Democratic bloc in the House of Representatives is a protest against the New Deal, which persists only because Democratic strategists fear that without the CIO and the PAC they will be defeated in the Congressional elections of 1946.

Sidney Hillman's quiet levy of $6,000,000 on the CIO membership for political purposes has frightened a party which since the Pauley hearings suspects that many beneficiaries of the New Deal regime will fear to contribute lest they some day be exposed.

In the Republican Party, Thomas E. Dewey ignores his role of titular head of the party, attending strictly to the business of being Governor of the State of New York.

John Bricker, the most popular candidate among party leaders, is running for the United States Senate from Ohio, where he faces bitter CIO antagonism.

HAROLD STASSEN, whose candidacy is supported by the same New York banking interests that favored Landon in 1936 and Willkie in 1940 and who reluctantly supported Dewey in 1944 in preference to Bricker, pushes heavily into the ring.

Stassen has taken a positive position on every public question. Unfortunately, Stassen is following the Willkie pattern, which means that he is altogether out of harmony with the principal spokesmen of the party in Congress.

They, day by day, make the party's record on which he will have to stand or fall. Stassen will have to explain away the foreign policy of Vandenberg, the leadership in domestic policies of Taft, and assertiveness of his own protege, Ball.

If he explains away too fervently, he will kill his chances in the convention.

Henry Wallace continues to confuse the political situation. He is ideologically an authoritarian. Never a regular, he started as a Republican, became a New Dealer, in a local election supported an American Laborite against a regular Democrat; yet, he has demanded the use of the purges to keep Democratic members of Congress on the leash of party regularity and obedience.

The appearance of Wallace as the principal speaker, next to the President, at the Jackson Day dinner made votes for Republicans in 1946.

THE PAC, with its numerous front committees and its close ties with those who have at various times been united with Communists, will face, in 1946, a country that is already pretty weary of Russian meddling in our affairs.

As our policy toward Russia becomes more positive, these very effective amateurs will be faced with their own records during the past 15 years.

It will be hard on these men and women as they meet their own speeches, acts and affiliations.

TO SHOW their strength to both parties, the CIO is going into many congressional campaigns. They have already been defeated twice: once when Johannes Steel was defeated in a New York city election. They put on a terrific drive for Steel, calling out their heaviest forces, including Henry Wallace, "Butch" LaGuardia and the artists, writers and movie actors.

They were defeated. The alibi was that Steel got a lot of votes, but the truth is that he got the entire Left Wing strength in a Left Wing district and it was not enough.

The second defeat was in Alabama. There the primaries are among the earliest in the country, the final date for filing being Feb. 28.

The candidate was Congressman Carter Manasco whom the CIO had sworn to get as chairman of the House committee which emulated the so-called "Full Employment Bill."

Manasco runs, however, without opposition. He will be re-elected, as nomination in the primaries in his district is tantamount to election. The CIO failed.

That is how the picture stands at the moment with Robert Hannegan biting his fingernails—or is it true that he has lost his teeth?

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 29—Ronald Colman hasn't waited two-and-a-half years to make a picture just to accept anything that comes along. And believe me he gets a prize (a Pulitzer prize) in agreeing to star in "The Late George Apley" for Darryl Zanuck.

Darryl, in fact, personally closed the deal with Ronnie, who he believes is the perfect choice for J. P. Marquand's novel which later became a hit play on Broadway. A pretty penny 20th paid for the rights—$275,000—and is Freddie Kohlmarr happy he will produce it.

The satire on Boston's manners gives Ronnie something entirely different from his last screen role, which was "Kismet" for M-G-M three years ago. Staying off the screen for that length of time might be dynamite for any other actor, but Colman is in a class by himself and, believe me, the fans haven't forgotten him.

ALL THOSE film biggies who have been bidding sky-high for Mike Curtiz can relax. Contracts are all ready for him to sign at Warners, with a deal that's better than any other company offered him. Warners weren't going to lose Mike you can bet! I hear through the grapevine that he's doing his best to get Jennifer Jones and Jimmy Stewart for his first picture on the new deal, "As Long as I Live," the actual experience of the naval lieutenant who tried to buy the park bench in San Francisco where he used to sit with his girl, and when the incident became nation-wide it was given to him. Of course, it's premature to say Jennifer and Jimmy are signed—but do you think anybody in his right mind would refuse to make a picture with Mike, who makes only successes?

OVER NIGHT almost, Richard Hart was taken out of the lead in "Dark of the Moon" in New York and flown to Hollywood by Metro, with whom he has a contract. He was getting a thousand a week in the show, and so there must be some reason why he's here in such a hurry. Perhaps M-G-M plans to give him a movie build-up before they announce the picture they have in mind for him.

TIME CERTAINLY changes everything: I have never seen anybody so upset at Warner's as William Powell was when he walked out of that studio in May, 1934. So he's now going back to a dressing room just one flight up from the one he walked out of. His last picture was "The Key" with Edna Best and directed by Mike Curtiz, no less, who will also direct him in "Life With Father." Bill is having his hair dyed a bright red by Helen Borie of Perc Westmore's, who is having more fun, I'll bet, getting the right shade.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: David Street wants the world to know he is not carrying the torch for Lois Andrews. He telephoned me to say: "I'm going to work hard at my career, and if I marry again, it won't be in a hurry. I loved Lois sincerely when we were married, but as soon as I found out that she had grown cold I put her right out of my mind."

"My daughter Jane—I thought she'd be a wall-flower, but she was named correspondent in a divorce case yesterday!"

Meanwhile, Lois is spending all her time with Madman Muntz and may marry him. She's only 20, and if she continues to acquire husbands at this rate, by the time she's 30, boy, she'll hold the world's record.

I JUST LEARNED SOMETHING: The Fred Methot, who just sold "The Comic Strip Murder" to Bob Taplinger, is Mayo Methot's (the ex-Mrs. Humphrey Bogart) brother. Bob intends to produce the Methot story as an independent venture. It has already been played on the air three times and was voted by the mystery writers club of New York as the best air mystery of 1945.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Helen Gilbert has picked out her next groom. "Tis whispered he is Victor, of the restaurant of the same name; the Keith Douglasses have welcomed a seven-pound baby son at the Cottage Hospital in Santa Barbara. Papa is a Warner actor; Veronica Lake and Andre De Toth have had more fun taking their Doberman around to the various dog shows—and seeing him grab honors; Mickey Rooney has acquired a race horse named Just Rusty. Seems to me that's the nag I bet on and lost one of the times I was at Santa Anita. Maybe he'll do better for Mick; Greg Bautzer, who flew to New York to be with his heart, is in bed in the big town with a severe case of flu; Mrs. Ezra Stone expects her baby via Caesarean, on Friday, in Philadelphia; Betty Hutton has been sick so much lately and out of her picture, that she has her studio worried.

JOHNNY WEISSMULLER, who prefers champagne, is now concentrating on Aline Gates, golf champion. At least, they have been seen together on four occasions at the Les Comique Restaurant; George Brent has lost 15 pounds and he's the boy who can stand losing that much—one of the many of us; Jimmy Durante's heart now belongs to Hollywood instead of Broadway. He's bought himself a home in Beverly Hills. Of course, that may mean he is really getting married. That's the talk: When Dorothy Lamour's affable Negro butler met Bob Hope for the first time, he said: "Mr. Hope, you surely was funny in 'The Road to U-Turn'." Frank Sinatra will hand out the graduation diplomas at the Hollywood professional school where his young protegee, Ronnie Ralph, was in "The House I Live In" will be one of the graduates. Well, Ronnie does better than most people, because Frankie's hard to get these days; Leatrice Joy Gilbert is out to have another try at being an actress. She's taking drama lessons from Miklan Ouspenskaya. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

BUDGET PLAN IF DESIRED

Broadway

By Dorothy Kugallen

NEW YORK, March 25.—Irene Dunne, who was considering a return to Broadway, won't attempt it until the health of her husband, Dr. Francis Griffin, is greatly improved.

President Truman's trousers, of all things, are the subject of a new movie script which has the Hollywood executives grabbing. The scenario's title is "The President's Pant". A well-known dietician is about to become the darling of girls who like to sit on bar-stools. He's releasing a reducing diet that calls for plenty of wine drinking. The S.S. Openlophen has brought back two Army captains who started a Mormon sect in Paris. They even set up a chapel in the Hotel Terrace on the Rue de la Paix. Parosols are really "coming in" this spring. The checkroom attendants at the Tavern-on-the-Green reveal they have already checked more than a dozen for as many fashionable ladies. All the parosols being expensively made and worked out in extravagant detail to match pretty dresses.

COTHAM SCENERY: Joe Besser, the comic, looking like a zooty cherub as he strolls 52d st. in a twelfth set of threads. Billy Rose kissing Florida-bound Lissner goodbye at Pennsylvania Station. Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne looking like the Best Dressed Man and Woman of Any Year at Co. Rouge. (Lynn and the Duchess of Windsor have a certain notable something very much in common.) Rene DeMaarspearing a sparrow with accidental uncertainty at the gala Singapore. Jane Deering and Harold

Washington Scene

Disturbed by King Future 83s dicat-

WASHINGTON, March 29.—In the largest and most stately office of the old City Hall in New York is a very embarrassed man. He is so mortified that if you mention the word "oysters" in his presence he is liable to borrow one of LaGuardia's old black hats and begin screaming.

The name of the disturbed gentleman is William O'Dwyer and people call him "Mr. Mayor," possibly because he is mayor of the city. He is not really a genial Irishman, not given to fits of mortification. He was bubbling over with more than ordinary good nature the other day because his red-tailed secretary, Bill Donoghue, had just announced the impending arrival of a barrel of oysters and a case of herring from the mayor of Amsterdam, Holland.

Mr. O'Dwyer is a great oyster and herring fan, having been raised in Brooklyn where such a practically considered breakfast food for the kiddies. He beamed all over with good-will.

"That is extremely nice of the mayor of Amsterdam," he said, licking his lips. "What does he eat in his letter?"

"He says it represents a token of esteem from the mayor of one great city to the mayor of another. And while we are on the subject, boss, I like oysters and herring too."

DOES by JOFISCHER

Lang, the Romeo and Juliet of "Three to Make Ready," playing the same romantic scene in Sardi's after curfew.

ALL AROUND TOWN: Maestro Alfred Wallenstein is recuperating from a dislocated shoulder. He waved the baton too energetically. Tip to gentlemen: For a dollar you can get second-hand, beautifully laundered white shirts. Chinese laundries on 9th ave. are window-displaying them. Jackie Whalen at Leon & Eddie's says he hears young Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski is writing a play. The working title, of course, is "I Don't Remember Mama." Nice gesture: When Charlie Barnet's orchestra trekked East last week for its 400 Club engagement it was necessary to charter a bus for the trip and pay the fare both ways. Realizing that the bus would be returning empty, Barnet called the USO and loaded the bus with homeward bound GIs. The toughest man in town is indubitably the bartender at Bradley's who uses straight tequila for an after-shave lotion. And horrible thought: did you know that the onion you get in your martini is quite likely to be a chunk of onion-flavored melon?

FACES IN PLACES: Writer Ben Hecht and Aviator Roscoe Turner occupying the Will Rogers corner at Leone's. Milgram Hopkins' buttercup head bobbing through the 5th ave. traffic whirl. Pale and interesting Helmut Dantine fawling friends at Gilmore's before taking off for Europe and the family he hasn't seen for so long.

By George Dixon

shook hands and as suddenly departed. "Now," said the guide, "we will go to the swimming pool." "Wonderful!" cried Mrs. Crane. "I've always wanted to see him swimming!"

GEN. EISENHOWER was at the Showman the other night listening to Barnee and his orchestra when Mr. Joe Hughes of Tacoma, Wash., came over and introduced himself as a great friend of the general's brother, Ed.

Gen. Eisenhower said he was delighted to meet a friend of the family and told a story about Brother Ed, who is a patent attorney in Tacoma.

It seems that when Ike was a captain under MacArthur he wanted to quit the Army because he thought he wasn't getting anywhere, that Ed talked him out of it.

"You stay in," Ed advised Ike. "I have a lot of faith and I will see that you get somewhere."

Ike took the advice and later was promoted to a major. Whereupon he received a wire from Brother Ed saying: "Congratulations. I know we could do it."

After each succeeding promotion—Lt.-Col., Col., Brig.-Gen., etc.—Ike received a communication from his brother taking credit for the boost.

Finally, Ike became a five-star general. Whereupon Ed wired: "Well, I did it again. But, remember, from now on you're on your own."

IF YOU WANT to drive yourself stark, staring daffy, take a shot at this:

Try to write the figure "6" starting with the usual down-stroke, and at the same time rotate your right foot clockwise.

Boston After Dark

AT THE BRADFORD ROOF, the Bernard Brothers and the de Marjos were paid off to the full amount of their contracts, and are "standing by" in the hope that the licensing board will lighten the suspension imposed by the authorities as a result of official displeasure at the act of another performer, Jayne Manners, who appeared at the Roof in the previous bill.

FORTY WAITERS and busboys are affected by the suspension of the Bradford's entertainment. The consensus among the Rialto, where an action by the all-powerful licensing board creates a main topic of conversation, seemed to be that the drastic action may prove salutary in its long-run effect on the quality and cleanliness of nightclub offerings. But the summary suspension was regarded as too harsh, for a first offense. It is known that complaints to Mayor Curley influenced the licensing board's order.

BEFORE MAYOR CURLEY authorizes anyone to write his biography, he would be well advised to reserve the motion picture rights for himself. This column was approached the other night by the agent of a prominent Hollywood director for an entree to the Mayor that might insure him a favorable audience. Ruth Hussey, the Providence movie actress who is great in the M. V. company of "State of the Union," would like to play in the Curley picture. It was Miss Hussey, a long-distance admirer of the Mayor, in fact, who generated interest in the Curley story for pictures. We advised the Hollywood factotum to call the Mayor-direct. Then the news broke that several of his friends were scribbling away already at the Mayor's personal story.

VARIETY SAYS that Bing Crosby is selling his majority interest in the DelMar race track for $2,000,000. He thinks it inappropriate for an actor who plays a priest in motion pictures with tremendous audiences to be associated in the public mind with ownership of a racetrack. Double feature at the Exeter: "The Last Chance"—"The Barge-Keeper's Daughter." Cape Cod really agents are telling prospective shore-dwellers to hurry. In more popular sections, reports of "no vacancies" for the coming season are current already.

TIE HEAVIEST purchaser of tickets to the recent Father O'Callahan dinner, in aid of the B. C. High School building fund was Maxwell (Mack) Shapiro—by more than a thousand dollars' worth. With one summer theater in Cambridge (Brattle Hall) and another in Boston (Mutual Hall), John Huntington is establishing a "first time ever" in theater business. "I Like It Here" got "mixed" notices, but the Oscar Karlewski vehicle has a chance to survive.

SALLY KEITH is mourning an aunt and uncle, both killed in an auto crash en route from Hot Springs to Chicago. The practical joke played in Washington the night of the Jackson dinner on a Bostonian may have a snap-back. The victim has been questioned about the identity of the two "officers" who applied the "rib." The Music Box food is winning raves. Whether the Copley Square supper-room and cocktail lounge will remain open this summer will depend on John Costello's ability to buy air-conditioning equipment.

PRIORITIES in the sale of automobiles are being given customers who can prove that the vehicles are needed to drive wounded veterans to work—or to hospitals for daily treatment. Billy Rose is making $7000 a week from the profits of the Ziegfeld theater—where "Show Boat" is selling out in its expensive revival. That is more probably, than Ziegfeld netted in 1928 when he owned both "Show Boat" and the Ziegfeld theater, which Billy "Bar-num" Rose picked up at a bargain in 1940. "State of the Union" is considered to be a strong candidate for the Pulitzer Prize which "Harvey" won last season. "Harvey" continues to play to capacity. Mike Todd is casting "Great Son," the picture he is making for Universal from the novel (by Edna Ferber) of the same title.

IT SHOULD BE interesting to Mayor Curley to learn that the deal which the late George M. Cohan made with Warner Bros. for the filming of the Cohan story "Yankee Doodle Dandy" has brought more than $800,000 to the Cohan estate. Ward Morehouse's book, "The Yankee Prince," was written after "Yankee Doodle Dandy" was screened. Sales were small and it is debatable whether Ward got enough in royalties to repay him for his time and effort.

U. S. Sub, Tender Ground on Shoal

The submarine U.S.S. Haddock and its tender U.S.S. Chain, which had it in tow, ran aground on Old Cock Shoal in Buzzards Bay early today just after passing through Cape Cod canal en route to Newport, R. I.

The Haddock was pulled off a few hours later, virtually undamaged, and a line was put aboard her to await the arrival of the tender Penguin from Boston, which will tow her to New London, Ct.

The Chain, hard aground, finally was floated with the tide by the Coast Guard cutter Dix and proceeded under her own power to Newport, R. I., escorted by a
Navy salvage tug.

House Approves Anti-Petrillo Bill

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP) conference report on the "anti-Petrillo bill" and sent it to the Senate for final action before it goes to the White House. Approval was by a standing vote of minor revision, the provisions of the Lea bill outlawing "certain coercive practices" of the American Federation of Musicians

(AFL), of which James C. Petrillo is president.

'The Body' Tells Of 'Spotty' Era

HOLLYWOOD, March 29 (INS)

A chatty letter that the screen's Marie (The Body) McDonald wrote to Producer Hunt Stromberg from Richmond, Va., in 1945 was produced at Miss McDonald's suit to set aside her contract with the producer.

The letter was introduced to show the cordial relations existing between the producer and his actress.

Miss McDonald's missive to "Dear Daddy S" rattled: "Don't let this get out but I have what is called s-h-h the German measles. Imagine getting the measles in Richmond, imagine getting the measles at 21, imagine getting the measles period!"

"They wanted to take pictures of my spots, but I drew the line. After all."

The Body's little note was signed "all my love to you, The Spotted Body, Marie."

How Science Hopes It Can Control Atom

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

ST. LOUIS, March 29 (AP)—The big fact on which scientists rely to prevent surprise atomic attacks—namely, that all atomic energy is limited strictly to two natural metals—uranium and thorium—came out today at the meeting of the American Ass'n for the Advancement of Science.

Uranium and thorium are controllable at mines and in power houses, so scientists believe no nation will be able to prepare for an atomic attack without giving the world advance warning of 18 months to several years.

Dr. Charles A. Thomas, vice-president of the Monsanto Chemical Co., a member of the plan committee and an atomic bomb expert, explained the new control plan today.

Uranium makes both bombs and power. It also makes a new metal, plutonium, for bombs and power. Uranium alone is the basis and no other chemical appears likely to yield atomic energy.

Important also is denaturation that renders all the metals non-explosive, but leaves them useful for power. Denaturation is what happens when an egg is hard-boiled. The metals are denatured by adding a secret chemical element.

The proposal is to give an international atomic development authority three controls over:

All mining of uranium and thorium.

All plants making the metals.

Inspection of large peacetime power plants.

All explosive metals would be denatured and issued in stockpiles to all nations for peacetime use. No nation could start a renaturing job without being seen. Any nation wanting to make raw atomic explosives would have to seize an international plant within its borders and the seizure would automatically warn the rest of the world.

Jew Killed, German Police Wounded in Stuttgart Riot

STUTTGART, Germany, March 29 (AP)—One displaced Jew was killed, five were wounded, and an American soldier and several German policemen were injured today in violent rioting which followed a black market raid on a displaced persons camp.

Two hours of rioting erupted when German police, accompanied by a "token force" of U. S. military police, moved into the camp, to search for counterfeit ration stamps. First reports indicated the fighting was complicated when nearby American soldiers, who did not know the raid had official sanction, rushed to the aid of the displaced persons.

The riot ended only when American armored cars rolled into the camp.

2 Shot in Greek Pre-Election Riot

ATHENS, March 29 (AP)—

Two persons were wounded slightly today in an election disturbance two days in advance of the Sunday balloting.

A single pistol shot inflicted the casualties outside the electoral office of the Populist Party when a group of about 300, described as EAM-KKE supporters, gathered and attempted to paste posters inviting "democratic citizens" to stay away from the polls.

Smart Set Hat Shop at Bazaar

By BETTY ALDEN

BAZAARS USUALLY MEAN PIES, cakes and white elephants but the Women's Republican Club spring bazaar had a popular novelty in the gay Easter hat shop presided over by Mrs. Moses Williams and Mrs. George Fearing. All the attractive girls that attended the affair eventually ended up in the millinery corner to try on the confections of flowers, feathers and frills created for Easter.

Mrs. George Aldrich and her mother Mrs. Russell Burrage had a grand time picking out bonnets for each other and Mrs. Robert Terry went home with a lovely pink straw and flower open-crowned sailor. Mrs. Williams' daughter, Mrs. Adrian Benziger (Eleanor Williams), a pretty blonde with a page boy coiffure, was another hat customer. An accomplished horsewoman, Eleanor married into the family that owns a famous Wyoming cattle ranch where many Boston deb's spend the summer. She is currently visiting her mother in Needham.

Emily Saltonstall

Mrs. Arthur Bell was the charming saleslady in the fragrant flower stall when Mrs. George Shattuck stopped to buy some posies. Mrs. Paul Mather, Mrs. Philip Dean, Mrs. S. Macon Cowles, Mrs. Howard Claussen, Mrs. John Shillito, Mrs. William Minot and Mrs. Philip Stockton were others having a busy day at the bazaar.

ROUND AND ABOUT—Because the Longwood Bowl matches were called off during the war it's a long time since tennis fans have had an event as exciting as the Don Budge-Bobby Riggs match in Boston Garden. Mrs. George Wightman and all the familiar Longwood players were out in force.

While T. Barnet Plimpton served as a linesman his attractive wife watched from a box seat and used her opera glasses to see the most brilliant lobs and volleys. Emily Saltonstall, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, attended with peppy Rosamond Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Nickerson came in from Dedham for the thrilling program that packed the Garden.

In town from Ipswich for a day of shopping and visiting, Mrs. Albert C. Burrage, Jr., lunched at the Ritz in a party with Mrs. George Swift. Since renting their Hereford st. house to the George Fews, the Burrages are year-rounders at their lovely Candlewood Farm in Ipswich.

Betty Dumaire of Groton, back in civvies after a long tour of duty with the Red Cross in India, was springlike in a navy silk suit and high crowned navy straw trimmed with coral roses as she lunched with a Navy captain and friends from out of town.

A BRILLIANT THEATER GUILD audience will attend the opening of the final play in the current season at the Colonial Theater Monday evening. The Theater Guild Shakespeare Company will present Charles Coburn in "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and a cast including Jessie Royce Landis and Romney Brent who is also the director.

First nighters will include Dr. and Mrs. William Cotting, Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Hodgkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Ware, Mr. Sears Condit and his daughter Louise; Mrs. Henry H. Stickney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milton Spoford, Mrs. Dunbar Lockwood, Mrs. Edward MacNichol, Dr. and Mrs.

Danced to Death

MANHEIM, Pa., March 29 (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Melvin T. Shank fell dead while doing a jitterbug dance at a party in the high school gymnasium last night. School physician Dr. Ruth M. Bronnan said he suffered a heart attack.

Heavy Bargain

SEATTLE, March 29 (AP)—Larry Smith is wondering if he got a bargain after all in buying a five dollar discount two tons of coal which were delivered to his neighbor's house by mistake.

It took him 75 trips, carrying over 50 pounds at a time in two scuttles, to bring the coal home. Smith groaned between applications of liniment.

Russian Midget Troupe Head Dies

MIAMI, Fla., March 29 (AP)—The royal Russian midget troupe which played the world and lived together for 39 years has been broken up with the death of its master of ceremonies, Michel Sokolsky, three feet, four inches tall.

Sokolsky, shorter of the six forming the troupe, was buried yesterday as his former fellow actors looked on.

The six settled down in Miami in 1942 after retiring and since then had lived under one roof. Sokolsky's death was the first break in the group since it left Russia in 1909.

Their travels took them to Japan, Formosa, Korea, China, the Philippines, the Netherlands, Indies, Burma, Canada, Cuba and the United States.

The five remaining are Mary and Basil Fillin, Pola and John Veilinkonoff and John Sanderlis.

Tobin to Confer On Lawes Probe

Gov. Tobin, in a telephone conversation from Florida with his secretary, Harry M. Kalus, announced today he would confer with Lewis E. Lawes, former Sing Sing warden, on his investigation of the State's prison conditions but expressed doubt the famed penologist could serve on a recess commission.

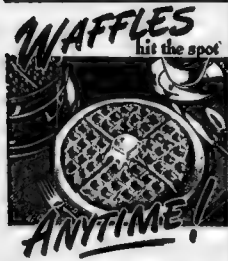

The governor, who has been studying the Lawes report during his Florida vacation, said he favored a full time parole board and all the physical plant changes recommended for State penal institutions by Lawes.

He said he could make no specific comment on what he might ask the Legislature to do on the prison situation until he conferred with Lawes on his return to Massachusetts.

"I would be pleased to name Warden Lawes as a member of any legislative commission the Legislature might create," he told Kalus. "But it is highly improbable that he could give the time required."

2 Fined as Sequel To Number Pool Raid

Vernon E. Percival, 31, of Columbus ave., and Stephen M. Martin, 31, of West Rutland sq., both South End, pleaded guilty in municipal court today of setting up and promoting a lottery, aftermath of a raid during which 10,000 number pool slips were seized. Judge Elias Shamon fined Percival, two-time offender, $500 and suspended a sentence of six months. Martin, janitor at the apartment building where the slips were found, was fined $50.

Read Recipe Carefully, Avoid Waste in Cooking

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

THE HURRIED, careless cooking of homemakers often results in waste of both time and food. And it might be well to remind them that a faster and less wasteful method of cooking would be first, to read the recipe carefully, unless they know it by heart; second, to assemble all ingredients and utensils and third, to measure carefully.

Very often time may be saved by wise choice of a recipe. In making cake, for example, choose a simple recipe that does not call for a great variety of ingredients and many different utensils. Fancy cakes may be baked for special occasions when the cook has plenty of time, but for family meals generally, a simple cake that requires no extra fillings and frostings, or special mixing is a faster choice. Upside-down cakes are often good choices for hurried days. They are very popular, require no frosting and a minimum of utensils.

Beauty Problem On Age Solved

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

NO LONGER NEED IT BE said of any woman: "Her face looks young, but her throat reveals her age."

This beauty problem... common to most women over 30... will be solved for the many who learn about a new throat cream. Every "throat-conscious" woman will welcome this effective preparation that supplies the drying skin with the essential oils which decrease with each succeeding year. For it is the lack of these precious oils that causes the throat to have a crepy appearance.

This new throat cream seems to have a "just right" texture. It's light enough to smooth on without stretching the most delicate skin... but has enough body to make it an excellent massage cream. Best of all, it is readily absorbed by the skin... an important quality in any cream.

Taut throat muscles quickly relax when they are gently stroked with this tradition-name preparation. It is most beneficial when left on overnight.

If you're anxious to turn back the clock, this throat cream is a beauty essential.

For the name of this new urgent phone the Beauty Dept., L.B. 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dates Boy, 17, Conditions Alter Now in Doubt The Procedure

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a girl of 22 and I date a boy of 17. I have known this boy for three years. I like him very much, and he seems to like me, too. We have dates every Saturday and Sunday. I want to date an older boy but am afraid of making this boy mad. I don't think I love him, but when he is away, I begin to want to see him. I don't know if it's love, or just that I'm lonesome.

I write to a boy in his twenties. He is an ex-soldier. I used to write to him when he was in Germany. He says he is coming to see me soon. What shall I do about this other boy? Should I go on with him or what? M. T.

I think you're right, M. T., and it's just that you are lonesome. I don't think it's love. You have an affection for this boy such as you might have for a younger brother, with whom you had had good times and whose companionship you would miss if he went away. But a boy of 17 is scarcely old enough for a 22-year-old girl to take seriously, and he shouldn't be taking you seriously.

The boy in his twenties is much more appropriate for you, and I think it's fine he's coming to see you. If I were you, I'd tell this younger boy about the visit you expect. Tell him in a perfectly normal, matter-of-fact way, and suggest that he'll be interested in meeting this older man and hearing about his experiences abroad. Copyright, 1946, King Features Synd., Inc.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: I know, of course, that a woman is first to step on a dance floor. But I would like to know whether she or her escort makes the way from their table to the dance floor; that is, when they must make their way through a crowded dining-room.—R. A.

"The woman precedes the man" is the advice generally given about this, as it is about who precedes whom in entering a restaurant. But it seems to me that it usually makes better sense for the man to precede the woman, in both these instances. Most men appreciate a woman's saying "Won't you go first?" when they enter a restaurant, for then he, following the headwaiter, can take the procedure in his own hands, can say "A table for two, please," and if there is a choice of tables, can indicate the one he prefers to have.

Similarly, when the man precedes the woman through a crowded dining-room to the dance floor, it is he, as it should be, who strides forward through the crowded spaces, conveniently making the way for her to follow.

The reason, I am sure, why most men step aside to allow the woman to precede them in such circumstances, is that they feel the woman thinks they are "supposed" to do this, whereas if the woman indicates that she doesn't necessarily agree with this procedure, they gladly abide by her suggestion.

Brown—A New Basic Color—Samuel Kass

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

THE sophisticated dress is any girl's pet production. But this season soft lines and subtle touches in bows, buttons, pleats, fringe, flowers or jeweled accents give it the 1946 look of clothes vanity.

Apple pie is toothsome . . . but more of a delicacy when a scoop of ice cream floats atop its toasted crustiness. And like the pie a la mode . . . extravagant touches presage the new era of fashion freedom . . . stamp spring clothes as of the mood and the moment.

Clothes with a lady-like distinction . . . in a delicate elusive mood . . . clothes that stand on their own ground and speak with a quiet but artful conviction are all part of the new fashion picture for spring. And it is fashionable to be feminine . . . to shoot the works in color, cut and cunningness.

Even brown has come out of its doldrums and acquired a place in the bright fashion sun. This season it's a haut couture color . . . and as basic and brilliantly smart as navy and black.

Samuel Kass . . . one of the strongest exponents of the ultimate femininity in dress . . . is one of brown's devoted publicists. Dress it up with white, he says. And as a further example of his belief in common sense comfort behind gay and joy-singing clothes . . . he favors this season suits and dresses with middy overtones . . . such as smooth high collarless dickeys . . . sleeves with middy cuffs and constellation of little gold stars studding belts and pockets.

(Tomorrow's Designer: Suzanne)

BROWN. As a color, it's reached fashion heights and is strikingly new this season. This brown crepe afternoon dress, as shown by Samuel Kass . . . smoothly rounded through the waist and past the hips, but prettily softened with pleating . . . has practical charm. Clusters of grosgrain bows decorate the bertha collar and the deep, pleated skirt flounce. Its elegant simplicity yields willingly and dramatically to imaginative accessorization.

34 Designers Dress You for Spring

YELLOW. Bright as the sun and as warm as a spring breeze, a luscious full length yellow wool coat . . . lined in matching dress print . . . tops a yellow, green and black printed crepe dress for an ensemble as gay as the spring flowers captured in the crepe replica. The coat carries its own silk flower corsage and is Samuel Kass' fashion way of giving the dress and coat two-some a happy-its-spring-again feeling.

BLACK. The magic of black is perfect foil for this typical after-five fashion fantasy by Samuel Kass . . . its ebony crepe decoratively but strategically sequined for the cocktail hour or festive occasion. It has fascinating interest but not breathless constraint around the waistline gliding into a skirt that is soft-spoken but full. The sequins . . . embroidered in rose motif . . . are applied in peplum-pocket effect on the skirt . . . while sequin clusters finish the grosgrain ribbon tie for the small collar.

FREEDOM is getting its due this season. I like the common sense comfort behind the new clothes. There are wing armholes combining a deep cut front with a moulded front . . . trumpet flower sleeves, curved in at the shoulder, caught in below, then billowing out again to the elbow . . . the cavalier line of longer jackets . . . reflections of pretty Peter Thompson suits . . . wonderful midriff interest to accent little waists.

Materials are combined with great originality and skill: light wools with Guatemalan linens . . . sheer wools with taffetas. Gay plaids are fashioned into beautiful afternoon and evening dresses.

Brown is a new basic color this year. Jade, lapis, coral, navy and caramel are good spring choices. Wear them with white.

Gable Fit, Garson Lovely, 'Adventure' Shows Seams

By PEGGY DOYLE

After all that Gable's back-and-Garson's-got-him exploitation, "Adventure," the Metro picture that presents these fabulous stars in tandem for the first time on any screen, turns out to be a horse of another color.

Clark Gable, in his first picture since his return to civilian life, is looking fitter than fit on Love's twin screens. Greer Garson, who has a notable gallery of lovely ladies to live up to, is as charming as ever.

But, underlying all this brawn and beauty, there is a barely perceptible antagonism between the coisterous, ungrammatical merchant seaman and her poor man's Mrs. Minver that would seem to be more than script-deep.

It could be that, discovering the script's inadequacies early (and how could they miss it?) they, like the good troupers they are, carried on through the shooting but not without a resolute resignation that shows through the picture's seams.

Miss Garson's prim, bespectacled librarian, though she be a "mild tomcat," has the sea in her green eyes Gable's rough, roistering sailor tells her when he isn't suggesting that "a good crack on the jaw would do you good."

These opposites meet with obvious reluctance when Thomas Mitchell, Gable's close buddy and a man with a deep concern for his immortal soul, is weighed down with the loss of that soul. Gable gruffly takes him in tow, leads him into a library where he suggests they should know about such things.

All the shouting and the sh-h-h-h business synonymous with library sequences is recorded by Metro's cameramen. The librarian in the horn-rimmed spectacles couldn't be more aloof and the brusque, bonny sailor is as chill as a nor'easter but, believe it or sue Metro, it's love, love, love.

But before the clinch, Miss Garson takes an unladylike bit of bathroom bawling that wins her the humble and permanent adoration of her sailor.

GREER GARSON

tion of Garson's rough shipmates. Until then Joan Blondell's slangy, ever-loving roommate of Miss G's had been the provocative one but from there on you know Garson will get Gable.

"Adventure" isn't anything that will convince Garson and Gable that they should forevermore share marquees.

Jimmy Dorsey and Band Win Plaudits at RKO Boston

Most arresting entertainment in the town is to be found at the RKO Boston. At this last downtown stage-and-screen holdout, the fingerbustin' Jimmy Dorsey and his bandmen head the stage show and the highly controversial melodrama, "Shock," with its questionable psychiatric theme, is the film attraction.

Dorsey has such a pleasant, easy way that it is not immediately apparent that he is one of the orchestra world's most skilled maestros. His sax and clarinet solo, "Fingerbustin'," he terms just a little digit manipulation but attend closely, hep-kids, and you'll observe more and better notes than a Yellow-Kid Weil ever plucked out of nowhere.

Star stuff, too, is 18-year-old Karl Kille's mad drumming, notably his "My Drums Are Getting Better All the Time" specialty. Cute Dee Parker's persuasive warbling of "I Think You're Wonderful" had the truant boys and girls in the spring-fevered audience agreeing she was. Even bluer were "Ain't Misbehavin'" and "Personality."

Buddy Huggins, who "entertained a lot in the service," Dorsey said, is a modest fellow with an agreeable voice. His songs are "Love Is Just Around the Corner," "Oh, What It Seemed To Be" and "And Then I Looked At You."

"Shock" is the film that the New York Times' reviewer urged 20th Century-Fox to withdraw from circulation because it stresses the frightening misuse of psychiatry at a time when the nation's psychiatrists have served our war-fatigued servicemen so brilliantly.

The film has been made with a

Teachers Resign As Pupils Strike

SERGEANT BLUFF, Ia., March 29 (AP)—Resignation of 13 of the 15 teachers of the Sergeant Bluff Consolidated School followed the return to classes of 75 high school students who had been on strike since Tuesday. The teachers gave as the reason for their action "the refusal of the student body to recognize the authority of the school board." No action was taken on the resignations.

The students said they objected to the rehiring of Supt. H. P. Shedd because of his "lack of interest in school affairs."

Home-Hunting Ex-Soldier Turns to Some Bitter Verse

By AUSTEN LAKE

IN THE TORRENT of veterans' mail complaining of the tape-tangled stupidities of the GI Housing Bill, comes the following versified enclosure which sets down the gripe of the house-hunting vet better than any prose. As a rule verse is anathema to this: commentator. But this has a solid impact. Here it is, titled d.

Austen Lake
So-Called Federal Housing Bill.

A soldier who had lots of points was sailing off the foam; His tired bones were joyous for he was going home; With eager yearning he'd repeat, as his ship churned through the sea: "A little house, a little house, just for my girl and me."

There was a tired lumberman, whose stride was jagged and slow; Once he was strong and full of pep, but that was long ago; In times when good equipment could be found on any day. Without an act of Congress when there was no OPA Adding turmoil and confusion to other troubles, such As unions hoisting wages up for doing not as much.

The soldier said "My little house, it need be nothing fine; Just a cozy, compact dwelling of maple, fir or pine, For rafters and the studding I'll need some two-by-fours. Some shingles to put on the roof, some siding, floors and doors."

Then spoke the tired lumberman: "There is no pine or fir, Nor any maple either for this house for you and her; It may be that our industry has lost its true perspective, For the only stocks we have on hand are OPA directives; We have no boards with knotholes; we only have the holes. To sell as per direction of Mr. Chester Bowles."

The soldier and the lumberman, they bought an evening paper; They saw a headline in the news which made their sad hearts acher; It read that in our Congress a bill was introduced Whereby all needed houses could be immediately produced.

The soldier and the lumberman began to read the bill. The first line froze their beaming smiles, the next one made them ill: With growing consternation they read the next lines quicker And every line that both men read made each one feel still sicker.

The bill made no provisions for providing two-by-fours, No word was there of shingles, foundations, sides or floors; It provided a director, with salary and fees, And its occupation broadly was employing employees; Thus not assuring houses, or boards or strips or slats, But another several thousand of unwanted bureaucrats.

Said the soldier to the lumberman: "My friend, I sadly fear That this is just some more ear-rot which we are handed here, As directors make directives and each politico covets

"You'll be answering subpoenas and filling in reports; While I make applications, turning gloomy and perplexed From one dollar at a desk to a moron at the next;

"And when I grow too old to dream and get too weak to roam; I'll dig my girl a foxhole and call it home sweet home."

In this doggerel you will find the same bitter humor by which the combat GI made fun of his miseries and hardships during the shooting phase of the war. They took their worst dosages of torment with a caustic wit which helped to save their sanity. Defensively they learned the trick of hiding pain behind grim laughter. The above ironic legistimeter contains the same harsh whimsy from wits made razor sharp by adversity.

For your homecoming GI reads of millions of feet of U. S. lumber being sold abroad, where there are no OPA ceilings and where foreign nations pledge payments from expected American loans. They find sharp tricksters using flaws in the GI Bill to handcuff them to vicious, inflationary terms of purchase. They are bounced around from federal office to federal office, where political pensionaires confuse them under a welter of restrictions. And in the end their dream of building and owning modest homes evaporates like a burst bubble in a splash of soapy mist—just as it is delineated by the anonymous writer of the above rhyme. But the majority of home-hunting ex-soldiers don't usually say it with doggerel. They use language which hits like being slugged with a wet haddock. Drop by some time and read my file of GI letters under the heading of "Veteran's Housing. Phooey."

Million to Witness Cambridge, Oxford

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—Handicapped by illness, Cambridge University will be the underdog in its traditional rowing race with Oxford here tomorrow, but Col. G. L. Thompson, the Cambridge coach, declared his ailing oarsmen would "be fit" by starting time.

Nearly a million spectators are expected to line the banks of the Thames to watch the four and one-quarter mile race.

Cambridge's stroke will be J. H. Neame, who was evacuated to the United States when the war started and attended high school in Portland, Ore. At 159 pounds, he will be the lightest man in the Cambridge boat.

2 School Tourneys For Tennis Players

EXETER, N. H., March 29 (AP)—The sponsoring of two inter-scholastic qualifying tennis tournaments by the New England Lawn Tennis Assn at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and Yale University, New Haven, Ct., both May 17-18, was announced today by President Percy C. Rogers.

All New England high, private and preparatory schools will be invited to enter up to four singles players and two doubles teams and the semi-finalists in both divisions at both tourneys will qualify for the national interscholastics at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., starting July 1.

Bruins Off for Montreal

By FRED HOEY

The Bruins will meet the Canadiens of Montreal in the final Stanley Cup series, the winner of which will be proclaimed the professional champions of the ice hockey world. The first game between the Bruins and Canadiens is billed for tomorrow night in the Montreal Forum.

In the same spot, on Tuesday, the teams will battle in the second game. The third game will be played here next Thursday night. The date of the fourth game scheduled for Boston is as yet undecided.

The Bruins qualified for the hockey final honors by winning the Class B series from Detroit, four games to one. The decisive game was captured last night by Boston, 4 to 3, after nine minutes and 54 seconds of "sudden death" play on a solo effort by Don Gallinger.

For screwy hockey the fifth battle takes the palm. The terrific heat in the Garden handicapped both sides. The game was a terrible affair from a hockey angle. Quite the reverse of the two sparkling efforts the teams put on in Detroit.

It was a sort of a give and take affair. The Bruins first carried the game to the Wings, and looked immense. Detroit looked tired and listless. Then it came Boston's turn to appear exhausted on the ice, and the Wings looked good. And, so it went all night.

The Bruins had the Wings, 3 to 1, going into the third period. This two-goal lead didn't mean a thing the way the teams were going. The heat had them down. But these fighting Wings managed to tie it up in the third period and send it into "sudden death."

Except for the frequent outbursts on the part of burly Jack Stewart, the Red Wings failed to show the tough hockey they furrished against the Bruins in the two games in Detroit.

The packed house left for their homes satisfied that they had witnessed one of the greatest one-man hockey efforts in local history. The 19-year-old Don Gallinger from Hamilton, Ont., who has been playing grand hockey over the last two weeks, put on his famous solo.

Don is one of those loose jointed skaters who uses an extra shake of the shoulders to put the last ounce of energy into his play. He did just that when he captured the rubber in front of the Boston net and went the length of the rink to cage the marker in 9 minutes and 54 seconds of the sudden death period.

So tonight, the Bruins entrain from the North Station at 9 o'clock to take on the Canadiens tomorrow night in the first test of the final Stanley Cup series, best four-out-of-seven games.

Hot Weller Scrap On WCOP Tonight

Rocky has knocked out six of his last seven opponents. Only middleweight Sonny Horne managed to last the distance with him. In two fights with Cochrane, however, Graziano required ten rounds on each occasion to dispose of the New Jersey Redhead while Servo, in a title event, accomplished the same result in four rounds and won the crown.

Outside the heavy division, Rocky is considered the mightiest puncher in boxing today. But Servo has never been kayoed and claims never to have been knocked off his feet!

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WCOP (1150 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

Jake LaMotta Is Choice Over Kid Chicken Tonight

By JACK CONWAY

JAKE LaMOTTA of New York, who reminds this writer of the spectacular Harry Greb, and "Kid" Chicken, Pittsburgh middleweight who is being compared to "Tiger" Flowers, are expected to furnish a stormy ring battle when they clash in a 10-round bout at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden tonight. Both men are name fighters of national standing, and as a result it should be a stirring battle.

Tony Zale

LaMotta is a 10 to 7 favorite in view of his close bouts with Ray (Sugar) Robinson, and his victories over a long line of middleweights including "Pop-eye" Wood and Celey Welch. LaMotta has been in Boston for several days, and he has impressed those fans who have seen him in action at Harry Kelley's Gym.

LaMotta, a legitimate middleweight who ranks as the No. 1 challenger for Tony Zale's title, is a forceful, aggressive fighter who packs dynamite in each glove. While LaMotta is able to knock out a rival with his right hand, he has shown even greater hitting ability with his left.

LaMotta never concerned himself a great deal with defensive ring tactics. He likes to parade to close quarters and bombard his ring rival with a varied assortment of blows. As fast and elusive as "Pop-eye" Wood was, he could not keep away from LaMotta's attack. Once Jake slowed Wood down with body blows, he lifted his punches to the jaw and won by a kayo.

LaMotta is striving to gain a championship bout with Tony Zale and a defeat by "Kid" Chicken tonight would deprive him of this golden opportunity.

Chicken Classy Boxer

"KID" CHICKEN is a fast, clever boxer. When he appeared in this city recently he outscored Reddy Evans.

There will be 800 fans from up State at the Garden tonight, and they will back Chicken to win. They have seen the Pittsburgh middleweight in his winning ring surges in Holyoke rings where he has scored eight wins in a row. They believe Chicken has the necessary fight ammunition to outpoint LaMotta.

Chicken is being called the new "Tiger" Flowers. This is quite a tribute as Flowers was one of the best middleweights this writer has ever seen in action. Flowers fought many of his bouts in Boston, and he was exceptionally fast, and relied upon boxing skill and his jab to win for him.

Chicken does not intend to try to punch it out with LaMotta.

"I know LaMotta hits harder than I do," said "Kid" Chicken. "It is my plan to outbox LaMotta. I think I am too fast for

Needham Club In Full Swing

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

Spring activities of the Needham Sportsman's Club will soon be in full swing, and scores of reels were spinning at the opening of this outfit's trout pond last week-end, where plenty of nice fish had been released, under the direction of Win Shaw, chairman. Many members tied into fine catches, with an excellent season in prospect.

A meeting was held in the Needham Golf Club last evening, the gathering being entertained by Charles Kling, former Amateur National Pistol Champion, who staged an amazing demonstration of hand gun shooting. Mr. Kling is erstwhile president of the Westfield Rod and Gun Club.

John Payne, chairman of the Field Trial Committee, announced that the big spring event is scheduled for April 13 and 14. A record entry of dogs is anticipated. Members of the Bass River Rod and Gun Club will congregate tonight in Lyceum Hall, at Yarmouth Port, on the Cape. All Cape Cod sportsmen's clubs have been invited to attend this meeting, for the guest of honor will be Albert Dixon Simmons, well-known author and photographer, who will lecture on striped bass, trout and sword fishing, illustrated with colored movies. For a hobby, this outdoorsman hunts wildcats, using only a bow and arrow. Sounds exciting!

Kelley Tests Gait On 15-Mile Route

By MIKE GILLOOLY

A spectator at the official opening of the road racing season last week at North Medford, Johnnie Kelley of West Acton, the present king of the local marathons, will test his gait and endurance tomorrow afternoon in the annual Reddish A. A. run—extended to 15 miles this year.

The added distance will allow the patients at the West Roxbury Veterans Hospital to watch the plodders as they romp along the Foreign Wars pkwy.

Kelley's only exertion last Saturday was extended to the mental torture of watching his chief rival, Gerard Cote of Canada, romp to victory in fashionable style over 20 miles. Cote's form was such that the experts already have tabbed him as the "one to beat" in the BAA classic April 20—an event in which Kelley will be trying to defend his title.

There'll be no Cote in the Reddish to challenge Kelley, but there'll be plenty of opposition from other quarters.

Wearing No. 1 in this 15-mile will be National Champion Charlie Robbins, now patrolling the courses for the Norfolk Young Men's Club, and also Clayton Farrar, wearing the colors of the home club. Both fell off last week, but both will be coming back strongly in the first trip over this new course.

Farrar has checked the pavements in breaking-in his new pair of shoes so that he'll be especially dangerous. He developed blisters in Medford after keeping stride with the winning Cote over half the distance to wind up in third place behind Don Heinicke who'll not be in the running.

Of the first 15 to finish at Medford, only Cote and Heinicke will be missing from the first draft list of 68 starters.

The race, starting at 2:30 at the Lowell School on Mozart st., Jamaica Plain, will proceed to Centre st., to the Veterans of Foreign Wars pkwy., to Spring st., to Centre st., to West Roxbury pkwy., to Washington st., to Cummins hwy. to Hyde Park ave., to Forest Hills, to South st., to Centre st. and back to the starting line. It will cover the districts of Jamaica Plain, West Roxbury and Roslindale.

Man O' War 29 Years Old Today

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 29 (INS)—There was no celebration at Faraway Farms today. Even though it was the 29th birthday of Man O' War. Early this morning Patrick O'Neal, manager of Faraway Farms, placed a large horseshoe-shaped wreath of flowers on the stall of "Big Red."

That was the only celebration for the champion thoroughbred who has been viewed by more than 1,300,000 visitors since his retirement in 1921.

E-L Meet May 8

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Breaking away from tradition, Boston English and Public Latin school baseball teams will clash at Braves Field, May 8—midway through the Boston schoolboy schedule—as a feature of the program in celebration of the English 125th Anniversary.

Although the in-town schedule hasn't been released as yet, the break was announced at an alumni meeting earlier this week.

Like the big leaguers, the two teams will hold batting and fielding practice to be followed by a demonstration in gymnastics to be staged by the English High boys and a tug of war. Following the ball game, the alumni will hold their banquet at Mechanics Building with a capacity crowd in promise.

English, under Coach Bernie Kilroy, has four veterans back from Joe Sheehan's championship club of last spring with plenty of strength "down the middle." Mario DiGiorgio will be back catching; Lefty John Ronan will be a starting pitcher; Al Luciano will be returning to shortstop and Bob Farrell will have a definite starting post in centerfield. The team has been working out at Billings Field, West Roxbury.

Peabody High School's football candidates are creating talk on the North Shore, tuning up for the meeting with Saugus at Manning Bowl, Lynn, Friday night, April 12. Coach Bill Seglitz has another nifty club scrimmaging everybody available... the backfield, with plenty of punch, has Capt. Hercules Harris, 160 pounds; Jim Smyrniotis, 162; Harold Baker, and John Manos in the starting group... Harris and Smyrniotis were regulars last fall.

Fella Gintoff has left the nucleus of a team for new Coach Dan Weitkamp at Boston College High... he'll have veterans Bernie Mulligan and Ed Harrett in the outfield; Capt. Walter Murphy behind the plate and Jack Casey at third... Dick Shellenback will probably be used as a pitcher.

Coach Frank Saba at Brockton High will swing his first official team over to the "T" this season after the club chalked up a single wing last fall... with Muzzy Bertocci tossing passes southpaw style and Gerry Wallin, a right-hander, Coach Saba felt that the "T" would fit in better... the Brockton team will wind up spring practices this week.

Remember the elongated Dick Sears dropping in baskets for the Class B champion Rockland team?... well, he'll be moving his 6-5 frame to the pitching mound for the high school team... Sears, along with veteran twirlers Hal Luddy, Bob Lee, Dave Walls and Jim Fotopoulos reported to coach Joe Cogan this week.

NE's Hope Among 'Feathers' Nephew of Veteran Boxer

Featherweight Ernie Martineau, awarded the George V. Brown trophy as the outstanding fighter in the New England championships, will be no stranger to tournament boxing when he steps into the ring for the national amateur championships to be held at the Boston Garden, April 8, 9 and 10.

Martineau, recently discharged from the U. S. Navy, was runner-up to the 126-pound title in the naval championships held in Hawaii in 1944.

One of eight children in the Martineau family in Avon, Ernie spent 32 months in the armed forces, working out of Pearl Harbor in submarine service for 20 months. His uncle, Albert Schallouf, training him for the nationals, will be remembered by veteran fans as an outstanding featherweight boxer in years past.

Martineau scored a bloody victory over Pety Newell, Salem, in his trial run in the New England and then trounced Ken Salois, Lawrence, in the final after a ringside doctor nearly disqualified him because of a badly split scalp.

Metkovitch Tells Catfish Story

By HERB FINNEGAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 29—Before Dave Ferriss, with 10 scoreless innings behind him, faces the Cards here today, let's go back a few hours to the Sox-Yanks game in St. Pete. (Final score: 4-all.) The subject en route was fishing. Ted Williams was

Sisti Enters Battle For Shortstop Job

By BILL GRIMES

FT. MYERS, Fla., March 29—The Braves' defeat by the Louisville Colonels, Red Sox farm, revealed two things to Mgr. Billy Southworth: (a) Sibby Sisti must be considered in naming the season's starting infield; (b) Pinner Al Treichel, at present, can't be considered as a regular pitcher.

Sisti projected himself into the shortstop battle by belting two home runs and missing the third because Colonel Layden, Pete Layden, All America football player from Texas, played deeper than any fence in the major league parks, and still had to go deeper to snare Sisti's drive for an out.

Shortstopping isn't new to Sisti for that was the position he played while at Buffalo High, N. Y., when he first attracted the attention of the Braves seven years ago. He never did get a real shot at his favorite spot because the Braves then had Eddie Miller, best shortstop in the National League at the time. His errorless play and his sticking against the Colonels definitely has lifted his stock with Southworth, who is still looking for a shortstop.

Despite the rave notices that came from scribes during the first week of training about Treichel being definitely the No. 2 pitcher behind Mort Cooper, it's all over as Treichel's showing in his last three starts has been the worst turned in by any of the pitchers.

He didn't do a thing on the ball against the Colonels, and was forced out of the game in the third inning after the first six batters mied. He was responsible for the first five, but an error by Skipper Roberge really blew it works.

Treichel's fate is now in great doubt as Southworth isn't talking.

TWO LOOP HOLDS MEETING

saying that fishing for snook along the Tamiami Trail was the best off-season sport extant. Bass, tuna and other piscatorial species were being dwelt upon, when Eddie Pellagrini piped up and asked George Metkovitch: "Where did you ever get the appellation of 'catfish'?"

"Right on this very bridge," said Metkovitch as the bus crossed the Manatee river. And it happened just six years ago.

Metkovitch related the story. He was with the Braves at the time. He, Bill Posedel and Art Johnson were fishing off the bridge after a Braves practice in Bradenton. The fish were biting, and they were having fun until Metkovitch caught a catfish.

He couldn't get the hook out of the cat's jaw. Irritated he slammed the fish on the bridge and stepped on it. He had crope soles on his shoes but the cat's fin not only pierced his shoes but went right through his foot. He was in agony.

"Want us to carry you?" asked Johnson and Posedel in alarm. No, "Metko" didn't. He just wanted to get back to the hotel and get a doctor. So he started running, and the running aggravated the injury. He was in the hospital for two weeks.

"It was my first year in pro ball," said the 24-year-old outfielder, "and what a year. After I got well, I was released to Evansville, and two months later broke my leg. That was all for the season, and I thought it was the end of me."

One thing about Metkovitch: He doesn't object to his nickname which by this time has been shortened to "Cat." Remember what umpire Bill Klem used to do to Marvins when the Rabbit would hiss out "Cat-Fish?"

RIP RUSSELL—No fancy dand around first base but he can hit. In three trips he walked once, singled in the sixth to knock in one of the Sox' four runs, later scored.

Graziano, Servo Meet in Gotham

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, the ring's newest "killer" who just loves to knock out welterweight champions, goes his chance at Marty Servo, the new 147-pound boss, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, March 29 (INS)—Rocky Graziano held a save and a half pound weight edge over Marty Servo when they weighed in for their 10-round nontitle bout at Madison Square Garden tonight. Graziano hit the scales at 152 and Servo at 144 1/2.

A sellout crowd of close to 10,000 persons who already have paid around $170,000 at $20 tops will sit in on this expected-to-be torrid affair between the Brooklyn clouter and the baby-faced lad from Schenectady.

The gross is a record for other than heavyweight scraps at the Garden and boosts promoter Mike Jacobs' take for 13 shows this year over $1,000,000.
